

Dan Froehlich

Star Teacher

Mr. Froehlich has taught me so much about real life that I wouldn't have ever learned anywhere else. Credit cards, insurance, and stocks are all things that are coming up in his students' lives. He is dedicated to teaching his students information that will help us in our personal and professional lives, as well as prepare us for our future careers and further education.

He is always genuinely excited when we can connect what we are learning in class to our real life experiences. Mr. Froehlich is always there for his students, whether they need to borrow a suit and tie, or need extra help understanding academic material. Taking his classes has made me realize my interest for business and finance and has helped me solidify my choice to go to college and study business for the next four years.

Mr. Froehlich makes even the most boring topics, like taxes, interesting to learn about, and even answers all of our outlandish hypothetical questions. By the way, burning your own house down to get insurance money is not a good idea.

The engagement and relationships that he has with his students makes being in his classroom something that I look forward to every day. Thank you, Mr. Froehlich, for being someone that I look up to for advice and career planning, and for making me feel like I could come to you if I ever needed anything.
