

Megan Hibberts Star Teacher

A teacher can be described as a person who invests time and effort into guiding their students toward success. A good teacher has qualities such as communication, listening, collaboration, adaptability, empathy, and patience. Megan Hibberts has all of these qualities and more.

Mrs. Hibberts has been my teacher for the past two years and the environment that she creates in her classroom, club, and one-on-one is a supportive and collaborative one. She continuously makes sure that each student when they leave her classroom is prepared for the life that they want to live and has all of the advantages to be able to succeed.

My first experience with Mrs. Hibberts was during my junior year of high school when I was able to be a part of Prom Club. During this time, she saw that I wanted to be involved with the conversation and that I had ideas and the artistic ability to create things that our group had dreamed of having. This is where our teacher-to-student relationship began and it has continued to grow. I also had the opportunity to have her as my American History teacher which allowed me to finally understand history. History has always been my worst subject in school, but being in Mrs. Hibbert's environment, where students continuously collaborated, allowed me to get a better understanding of the timeline of events that happened in America.

Now as a senior, I am still in her Prom Club and in Senior Seminar, where I am learning the ins and outs of adulthood and creating an unforgettable prom. Part of the person that I am today is because of the wisdom and guidance that she has given me through our years together.
